Rafiki's vision is to create the biggest hostels' chain in the world that offers a budget friendly and a unique experience for travellers. Inshallah*

if you don't know this word already, you'll be hearing it all the time here in Morocco - it means 'if God wills'.

● RAFIKI

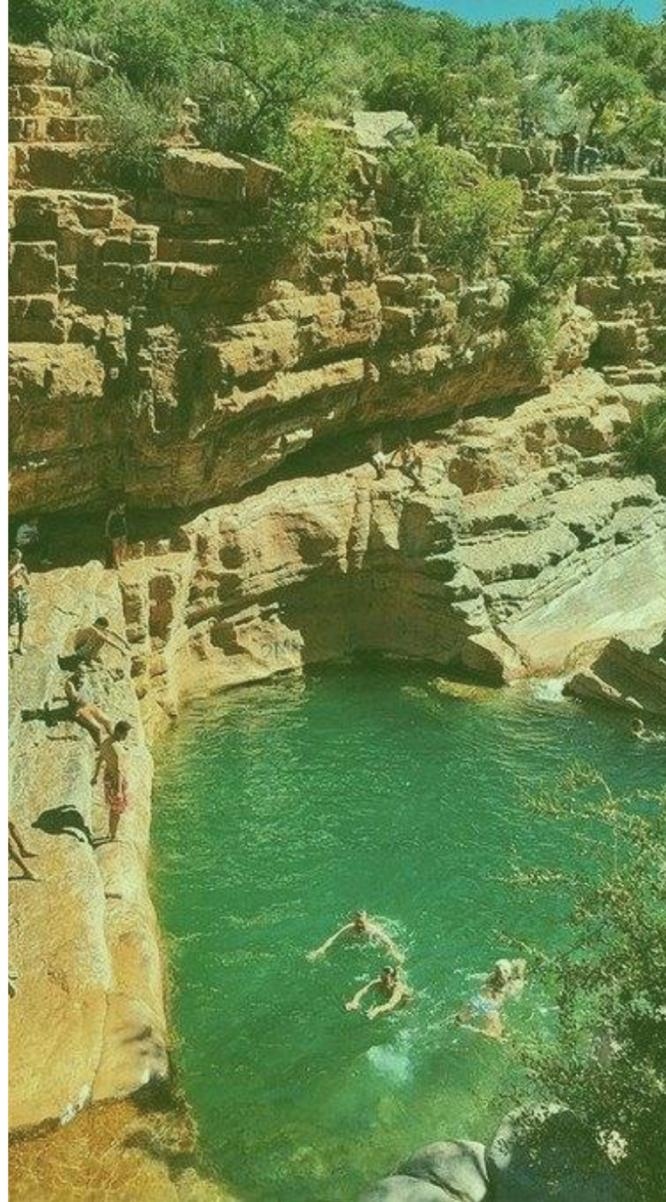

You probably know Rafiki as the cool baboon from The Lion King, right? The word "Rafiki" is also an Arabic expression, deeply rooted in Middle Eastern culture and translates literally to "Your companion who always has your back."

We chose this name because we promise that we are going to be more than a hostel for you, we will be your local companion whom you can rely on whilst travelling.

You're going to be able to find us in the most underrated and exotic places in the world. Meaning you probably won't find us in Santorini or Vegas...

ABOUT RAFIKI

Given our background as passionate travellers who have been to 100+ hostels globally, we strive to be your local friend who will:

01.

Take you worthwhile places

02.

Organise

TAMRAGHT

AGADIR / MOROCCO

● VIBRANT

Tamraght is a small coastal village near Agadir on Morocco's Atlantic coast, known for its relaxed surf culture, peaceful atmosphere, and strong Amazigh roots. It's less crowded than nearby Taghazout, making it ideal for travelers seeking slow living, ocean views, and a sense of community. With consistent waves, yoga retreats, cozy cafés, and stunning sunsets, Tamraght attracts surfers, creatives, and free spirits looking to reconnect with nature and themselves.

● HISTORIC

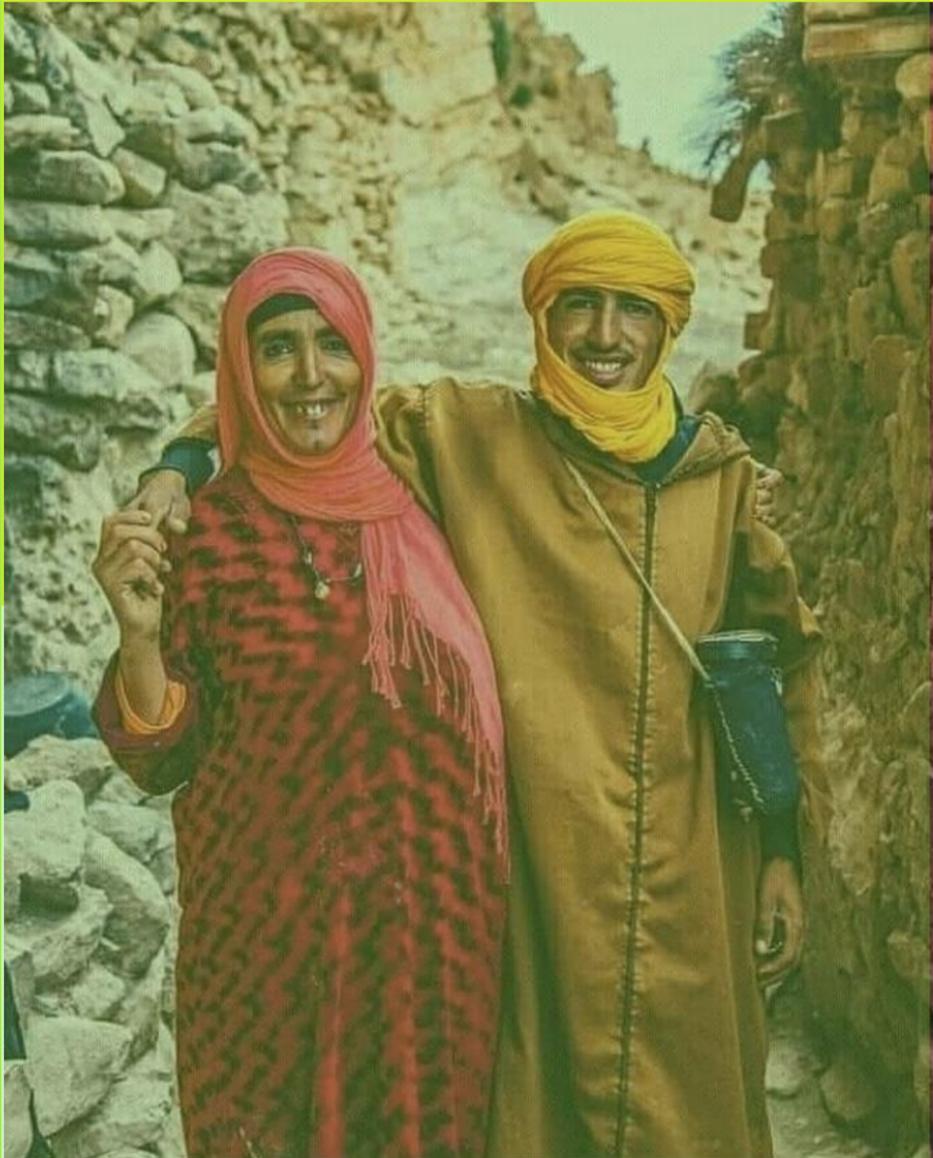

Tamraght is a traditional Amazigh (Berber) fishing and farming village that existed long before it became known to travelers. For generations, locals lived from the land and the Atlantic Ocean, relying on fishing and small agriculture.

In the late 20th and early 21st century, the discovery of nearby surf breaks brought surfers and backpackers to the area.

Today, it remains a quiet blend of Amazigh heritage and modern surf-village culture.

● AMAZIGH HERITAGE

Amazigh culture remains present today through local customs, language, hospitality, and everyday village life, giving Tamraght an authentic and grounded character.

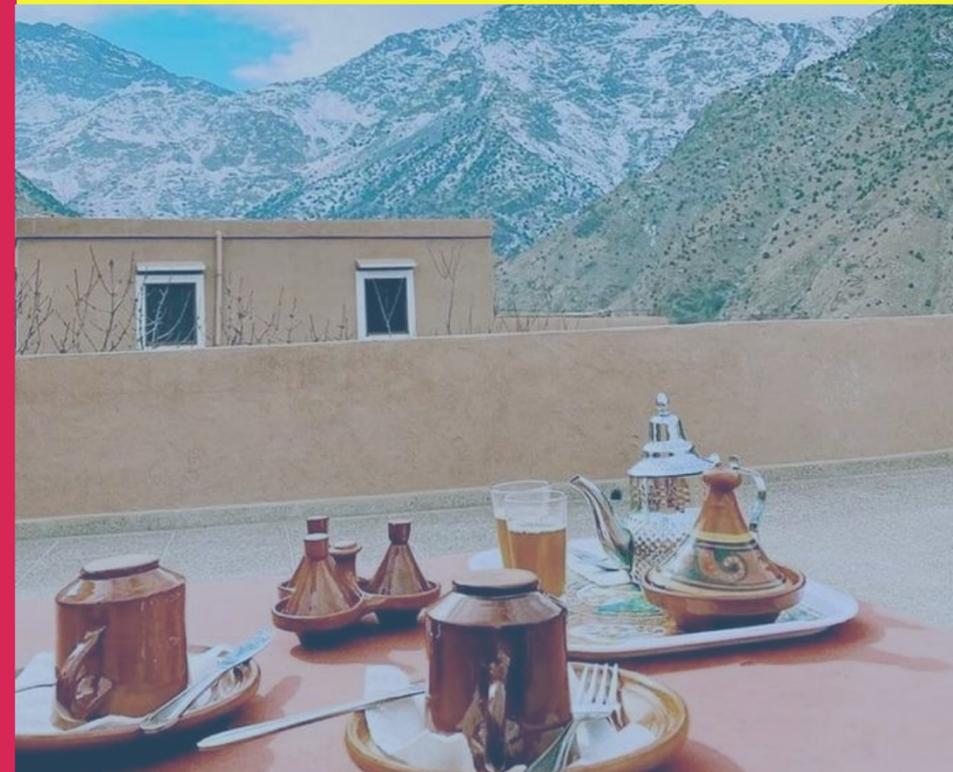

● Surf Coast & Relaxed Lifestyle

Located along one of Morocco's most consistent surf coastlines, Tamrakht has become known for its accessible surf spots suitable for beginners and experienced surfers alike. The ocean based lifestyle has naturally shaped the village's rhythm, encouraging a slower pace of life.

Visitors are drawn to activities such as surfing, yoga, coastal walks, and enjoying panoramic ocean sunsets, all of which contribute to Tamraght's calm and balanced atmosphere.

● PEACEFUL ATMOSPHERE

Tamraght offers a quieter alternative to more commercialized coastal destinations. Tourism has developed gradually, with an emphasis on small, locally owned guesthouses, cafés, and surf camps. This approach allows visitors to experience the village in a respectful and immersive way.
